

Legal Issues in International Development

|                   |  |
|-------------------|--|
| Project Title     | Legal Issues in International Development                                |
| Project Summary   | Research and write about legal issues encountered by USAID in the field. |
| Country           | Mozambique   |
| Agency            | Agency for International Development                                     |
| DoS Office        | N/A  |
| Post              | N/A  |
| Section           | N/A  |
| Number of Interns | 1  |

Project Description

The USAID legal officer covering Mozambique and Angola is seeking a law student to research and write on legal issues affecting USAID. Topics will be assigned based on issues encountered by USAID in the field. The intern(s) will conduct legal research, review the policies of USAID and other USG agencies. Topics will vary, but may include intellectual property rights, wildlife conservation, global health programs, U.S. legal authorities related to international development, etc. The intern(s) may assist in drafting legal guidance, interpretations and thought pieces for internal and external audiences. Strong research and writing skills desired.

Desired Skills Interests

Additional Information

- Applicants must be currently enrolled in a Law School pursuing a J.D. or L.L.M.
- Most topics are based on U.S. law. While knowledge of local law is not required, research tasks may include researching host country laws.
- Any documents uploaded to USAJOBS will not be provided to the reviewers at the time of your application. Please enter all information that you wish the reviewers to consider in the online forms.
- No prior knowledge of USAID is required, however applicants should have a demonstrable interest in international development.

-Undergraduates should not apply.

Language Requirements

None